BIG FALL HUNT RULES

Hunt Participants Responsibility.

During the hunt, each detectorist in the hunt should act respectful towards other detectorists by not taking another's targets or infringe on another detectorists hunt space or by overlaying their coil upon another's coil. The hunt is competitive but should be practiced in a socially acceptable manner by all participants.

Treat everyone during a competition event like you would want to be treated- fairly and with respect.

Remember that each participant will have a different skill level: some will be faster and others slower, but all the participants paid an admission fee to enter the hunt and deserve the same opportunity to find targets and have respect.

Hunt Field Rules:

- Hunt Master is totally in charge of each hunt.
- The hunt field should be divided in quadrants before the hunt. If hunt participants help in planting the hunt field the participant should be assigned a quadrant for target planting and he or she should not be allowed to hunt in their previously assigned hunt field quadrant.
- Registered hunters must sign a waiver form before participating in the outing and or hunt.
- Registered hunters must wear hunt registration badge or armband while on the hunt field.
- The Hunt Field Gate Keeper will check all registered participant badges or armbands before allowing individuals to enter the hunt field perimeter. Only registered hunters are permitted entrance to the hunt field.
- No Walking across the Hunt Field while getting to your hunt field line-up position.
- Always have detector coils facing up when approaching a flagged hunt area and remain in that position to show readiness (and to not spot some target while people are assuming positions), until start whistle (or the like) is sounded.
- All Trash recovered during the hunt must be put in a target recovery pouch and be removed from the hunt field.
- All holes dug to recover targets must be filled once the target has been removed.
- No placing coins or other items back in dug holes.
- Failure to follow hunt rules will result in the forfeiture of all hunts, prizes and the offender will be requested to leave immediately and no refund.

Hunt Prizes:

- Coin Targets and Token Prizes will be regulated according to number of hunt entries.
- Coin and Tokens targets should be no greater than two inches deep in the soil.
